

25 September 1990

Dear Susan,

Here is the final version of the summary. I think you will be satisfied with the modifications. (I have also added a few facts from my notes.)

Elder Clarke desires it to be his report--so it is identified as such.

Please destroy the previous versions of the report. This final one contains correct data (I hope. If you find problems, please let us know), and is the only one I was authorized to give you.

As you will note, I have had it printed on a quality printer. (And two-sided, it is only 11 pages)

I look forward to receiving the copy of the supreme court documents (and hope they are successful in locating all of the case files).

Thanks for sharing things with me.

Best wishes always.

Elizabeth

PS: I did ask Karen (Elder Clarke's secretary) about the Williamson temple book. She checked, and he does have it.

Baptisms for the dead in SG temple

The baptism for the dead in 1878 listed William Warner, with heir Edmund Homer (son of Russel King Homer), as great grandson (which would be correct). (But it lists him as the same relationship as Edmund Sears, which is not correct. It also lists Joshua Warner, with Edmund Homer as grandson, which cannot be correct. This would indicate that Joshua is the son of William, when other records indicate that William is the son of Joshua. It is assumed to be a simple mistake in stating the relationship in the 1878 proxy baptism records. (Although one also notices that Anna named her first son Joshua, and her second son William.)

St George Temple Records

of sealing of child to parents: his children are sealed to him (film 170589);
Also he is sealed to his parents: Joshua Warner and Hannah Harris
Sealing to spouse for William and Hannah Wilbur listed as 17 Sep 1931
Sealing to spouse for Joshua Warner and Hannah Harris listed also as 17 sep 1931

Handwritten record of Russel King Homer listed his ancestors, including William Warner, "my grandfather" coupled with Hannah Wilbore.
Apparelntly listed Joshua Warner and Ruth Allen as ancestors--apparently parents of this William Warner.

The identity of this William has been assumed to be that of William Warner born March 1739/40 in Bradford (or Harvard or Rowley)Massachusetts, son of Joshua Warner and Mary Hutchins--but that is being seriously questioned. The identifiers found in this PAF record are from the early LDS temple records for the grandfather of Russel King Homer.

There are deeds in the area of Westmoreland, Cheshire, NH in the late 1700s for a William Warner and Hannah--that could refer to this William, but there are indications that there were probably more than one William Warner in that area and time period. Thre is also one William Warner listed in the 1790 censu in Westmoreland, Cheshire, NH--there are other William Warner families listed in other NH counties.

Intersetingly enough the "Book of families" prepared by the daughter of Russel King Homer as a "tribute of respect to the mother of my dearest dearest father" takes the Warner line beginning with the Andrew Warner who settled in Middlesex County, Massachusetts in the 1600s--which is an entirely different line--different immigrant ancestor--from the one who settled in Ipswich, MA.

The ordinance dates listed are also found in the family Temple book of Russel King Homer, preapred in the 1930s by "Aunt Ret".

The family record book listed all nine children for William Warner and Hannah Wilbur. There is still no indication of where this list originated--or whether it is indeed the brothers and sisters of Anna. It also listed some spouses--see the children's individual record. Children: Dianna, Susan, Lee, William, Joseph, Caleb, Anna (the ancestor), Joshua, and Aseneth.

There is also a William Warner listed in Onondaga County New York as early as 1806. See summary of William WARNER for more details.

The identity of this William is a research objective as of August 1990.

Different family records give different mothers for William. In what is thought to be the handwriting of Russel King Homer, he states that William Warner is his grandfather, and lists Hannah Wilbur belong it. He also lists Joshua Warner, followed by Ruth Allen. (The list starts off with his father followed by the name of his mother.)

In the 1930s, the family had William sealed to Joshua Warner and Hannah Harris (with a death date for Hannah Harris of 1835).

Both Hannah Harris and Ruth Allen are listed in the 1878 temple proxy baptism records, with the wife of Edmund Homer as proxy, and relationship listed for both of them as "friend". (Friend often meant in-law or any other relationship in those early days. There was no standard, and no consistency.)

Another family record replaced Hannah Harris with the name of Honor Harris in the late 1930s.

A Hutchins family history DESCENDANTS OF JOHN HUTCHINS OF NEWBURY AND HAVERHILL MA compiled by Edwin Colby Byam and edited by Jack Randolph Hutchins gives information about the Joshua Wrner who married May Hutchins: "By or before 1752 Joshua and Mary (Warner) and their family moved from Harvard up into an areas not yet defined as either VT or NH, to live while the Indian War lasted, in t-a for at Great Meadows, Putney VT. He and Samuel Minot who was also int he fort wree among the first to be grandted land in 1752 in Westmoreland NH where Joshua was the first rtreaseree and one of the odunders of the first Church. (This may also be the source of the 1763 marriage date for William Warner and Hannah Wilbur, which is found referenced in some records, but with no source.)

different person?

There is a will for Joseph Wilbur in Westmoreland, Cheshire, NH in 1809, that refers to a daughter Hannah Warner, already deceased at that time.

There are deeds in Westmoreland NH area in this early time period for a William and Hannah WARNER--assumed to be this couple, but it could refer to another.

Sealing to parents date from the Ancestral File (there may also be an earlier one).

In the will of Joseph Wilbore in 1809 in Cheshire County, NH, he mentioned the heirs of his deceased daughter Hannah Warner. He also mentioned a daughter Susanna Wilbore Allen, and since Abel Allen is mentioned in the settlement Abel is probably the son-in-law. The oldest son is Nathaniel Wilbore (brother to Hannah Wilbore (Wilbur) Warner). Note that in Onondaga County, New York there is a Nathaniel Wilbore, the oldest living Revolutionary War pensioner in the county who died age 1ge 100 years. Could this be Anna's uncle who was the Revolutionary war soldier who sometimes lived with them? (More should be available on this Nathaniel.)

The family temple book of Russel King Homer, preapred in the 1930s, listed 9 children for her, which are also in the temple sealing records of 1932: Dianna, Susan, Lee, William, Joseph, Caleb, Anna (the ancestor), Joshua, and Aseneth. The temple sealing record gave month and day of birth for several where the family record only listed the year. (This would indicate that a more complete record may be found somewhere among family records.) Origin of the list is still unknown--whether Russel King Homer could have identified them as his aunts and uncles or not---. They could have come from a Bible record.

CHILD 1 - Dianna WARNER-35

Sealing of child to parents records of the St George Temple, film 170589 included complete birth date; listed the children all "of Erie, NY"

Old family group record, compiled after 1935 (publication date on the form) that listed a year of birth, but not a day and month. It listed birth place as Erie NY; listed her spouse as Robert Allen.

Family Record Book compiled by daughter of Russel King Homer listed Dianna as married to Mr. Wait, and gave ordinance dates for him.

Sealed to husband as Mr. Waite, br. 1766, Erie, NY (he was end. 30 Jul). The given name is found in vital records of Westmoreland, Cheshire, NH (on film) which seems to fit--it is an assumption that it is the same Dianna and Mr. Wait (married 1790, which would seem to fit) (Temple film---- page 22, dated 11 Jan 1932 for the sealing of couple) However, hisotry of Westmoreland suggests that the Diademna mad in Westmoreland 14 Nov 1790 to Barnet Wait was daugh of Job Warne, son of Joshua Warner.

The spouse of Robert Allen is taken from the old family group record compiled by the family in the late 1930s.

According to the history of Russel King Homer written by his son, Harrison Homer, when Anna's husband died in 1852, Russel took his family and traveled from Iowa to Pennsylvania and stayed several months, to get things settled. This would indicate that Russel was close to his mother and would almost certainly have had personal knowledge of her ancestry.

Anna was living in 1850 and the census stated that she was born in New Hampshire. She also stated in 1860 that she was born in New Hampshire. In the 1880 census, after her death, none of her children listed her as born in New Hampshire, but as born in Vermont or Massachusetts.

One family book stated that sources were family Bible records and old letters. This probably indicates that the names and dates for her brothers and sisters came from a family Bible;
